

TRUMP

POWER TEAM

INVEST NOW!
THE ART OF THE DEAL

LUXE HOTELS
AROUND THE WORLD

9
CLASSIC
GOLF
TIPS

REGIS
AMERICA'S HOST

COME FLY
WITH ME
DESIGNER JETS

2007
BEST EVER AWARDS

SPRING FASHION
MISS UNIVERSE

ROLLS ROYCE
GOES TOPLESS

INSIDER

COUTURE CUES

Hit 'em with your best shot. As a master billiard-cue maker since 1993, Joel Hercek's formula for the perfect cue combines art and functionality.

Crafted from exotic hardwoods, the cues are joined together using a time-consuming and rare technique called the "full-splice," which creates greater strength and weight distribution. Hercek's cues are strong and sturdy, making shots more comfortable and reducing the amount of power needed to make that long shot down the table. Some inlaid materials include elephant ivory, precious metals, and turquoise set into intricate designs that can take hundreds of hours to create. If you're willing to brave the ten-year wait list, you'll be happy with a cue that's unlike any other. $2,000-$25,000+ hercek.com

THE WRAITH IS ON

What do Tom Cruise and Brad Pitt have that you don't? How 'bout a cool ride from Confederate Motor Company, the creators of the Hellcat motorcycle? Up next for release in April is the B120 Wraith motorcycle. Inspired by the pre-1916 era of Biker popularity, the B120 is modeled on the 1911 Pierce design, but improved with the most up-to-date technology. The use of carbon fiber in place of steel or aluminum makes the bike lighter while maintaining the same strength. This technique is also used in high-end sports cars such as Ferraris. The motorcycle also features the Monocoque chassis design, which forms the top of the bike as one complete piece to improve and simplify the models' aesthetics. The distinctive design, handmade materials, and quality leave you with one wild ride. $65,000, confederate.com

Lost in Translation

Donald Trump is internationally known, and so is his most famous catchphrase. But sometimes, things get lost in translation. Does the Norwegian version have the same punch as the American original? You be the judge—and try your favorite next time you're traveling!

Country	Translation	How to say it
BRAZIL	"You're fired!"	Voce esta demitido
GERMANY	"You're off!"	Sie haben frei!
GREECE	"You're out!"	Efiges!
NORWAY	"Sorry...you're fired"	Beklager, men du har spaken

Source: The New York Times via www.ridistatistics.info

TO HAVANA AND TO HOLD

The top floor of the Wachovia Financial Tower in downtown Miami plays corner office and after-hours club to the city's leading movers and shakers. Home to The Havana Club, the elegantly appointed space serves 800 carefully selected members in high style. The five-star dining and expansive wine list are matched only by the cigar menu, representing one of Miami's native industries. Leaders in politics, finance, law, and entertainment have made the Havana Club their destination for business and pleasure—offering private limousine service and is just one of the many benefits of membership. An elite concierge service will provide anything that the club (or one of the many clubs offering reciprocal privileges) cannot, making it a worthwhile investment for anyone seeking the ultimate private club experience. thehavanaclubofmiami.com

